

Amilla
MALDIVES RESORT AND RESIDENCES
BAA ATOLL

Well, they do say Spring is a time for renewal, growth and rebirth - and this has definitely been the case for us. May brought even more exciting changes and improvements here at Amilla Maldives. Top chef, Jonny Marsh, was at Amilla to see some of our changes during his culinary residency. It included an amazing opportunity for guests to enjoy two fabulous dining events, including a beach BBQ.

Considerate Collection

Another branch of our growth - pun intended - was in the environmental sector. Small Luxury Hotels of the World announced we have been included in their Considerate Collection. This special accolade has so far only been given to 35 properties around the world in recognition of their sustainability initiatives. Amilla is the only one in the Maldives to have been added to the prestigious Considerate Collection.

Moving Up

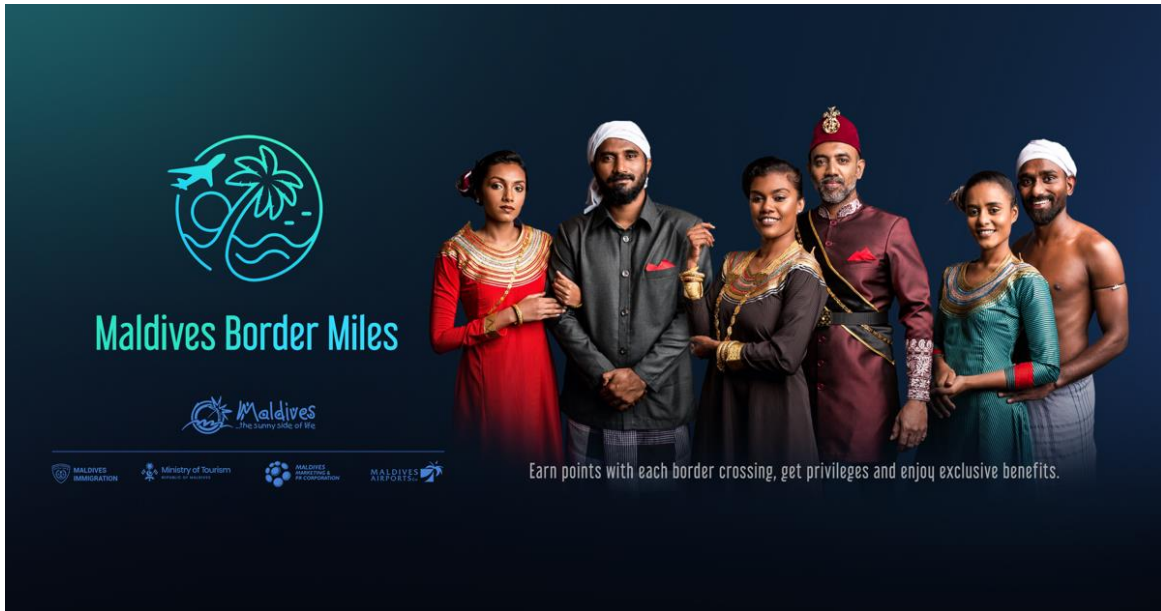

May has seen two major improvements in Amilla's fitness arenas. First was the opening of a new cardio studio at Javvu Spa. Situated adjacent to the gym, it's now a dedicated strength area. This facility offers guests a range of cardio equipment with stunning views across the azure waters of Baa

Atoll. Our tennis courts have also had a makeover, with the resurfacing of the courts ready for November's visit from world number two player, Danill Medvedev.

Border Miles

The Maldivian government recently started a new initiative for repeat visitors to the Maldives, Border Miles. This unique loyalty scheme sees travellers collect points each time they visit our island nation. Over time they accumulate, giving access to three different levels of privileges and benefits. As a Maldivian-owned resort, Amilla is taking part in the scheme and offering guests with the required number of Border Miles special privileges including massages, pack and go laundry and free excursions.

Maldives Golden Year

2022 marks the celebration of 50 years of tourism in the Maldives and Amilla has an exciting range of events planned to commemorate this very special year. These events will include giving support to neighbouring inhabited islands with the donation of 50 bicycles and a tour of Amilla for 50 local children on World Family Day. Amilla will also support Neyvaa 2's attempt to set a new world record for the most people performing static apnea at one time. Guests staying at Amilla on October 1st can be a part of this event.

Planning your visit

As you all know, Amilla has celebrated many events and international holidays in style over the years. So to help you plan your next visit to Amilla around what is happening at the resort we have created a new Events calendar. Click through on any of the underlined events to get more details.

Our Festive Season planning is already well underway and we can reveal this year's theme is "Amilla Presents Showtime". Daily events will be themed around different shows and while we cannot yet disclose our New Year's Eve theme, you can count on there being plenty of glamour, including a red carpet, on the night.

We look forward to welcoming you back to Amilla again soon.
